- 18.6 Workers may be able to apply for unpaid leave from time to time. This may be used in combination with available annual leave up to a maximum of 6 weeks total unless otherwise agreed with their manager. Applications for leave are dependent upon mutual agreement between the worker and Employer (who will not unreasonably withhold its agreement). 25.7 Fixed Term Workers' employment will automatically terminate at the end of the agreed fixed term, or at such earlier time as provided for in this Agreement. No notice beyond the date of the engagement is required for the termination of a fixed term worker.

26. ABANDONMENT OF EMPLOYMENT

Where a worker is absent for two consecutive shifts or more without the Employers knowledge and approval, then that worker shall be deemed to have abandoned their employment unless a reason satisfactory to the Employer can be given. The Employer will make all reasonable efforts to contact the worker before terminating that worker's employment.

27. SUSPENSION

If the Employer considers it necessary, it may require workers to undertake reduced or alternative duties consistent with their abilities or remain away from work, on pay. If any suspension extends beyond four weeks due to matters beyond the Employer's control (such as a police investigation into a worker's conduct) the suspension may continue without pay after consultation.

28. EMPLOYMENT RELATIONSHIP PROBLEMS

Attached to this agreement is a plain language explanation (pursuant to section 54(3)(a)(iii) of the Employment Relations Act 2000) for the resolution of employment relationship problems, which includes a reference to the period of 90 days within which time a personal grievance must be raised by the worker with the Employer. The Employer encourages the worker to bring employment problems to its attention immediately as the company is committed to resolving disputes which may arise as early as possible.

29. EMPLOYEE PROTECTION PROCESS

29.1 Restructuring is defined in Section 69OI of the Employment Relations Act as:

29.1.1 Contracting out; or

29.1.2 Selling or transferring part or all the employer's business to another person (New Employer)

29.2 In the event that there is a proposal by the employer that might impact workers, including a proposal to contract out work, the employer will act in good faith including consulting with the union prior to any decision is made.

29.3 If there is a restructure that will affect a worker's positions, the Employer will negotiate with the New Employer on how the workers will be impacted as soon as reasonably practicable. The Employer can take into account its commercial and confidentiality requirements. The negotiations will follow this process:

29.3.1 Advise the workers of the intended timeframe for any relevant meetings in the restructuring process; and

29.3.2 Let the workers know what will be discussed in these meeting; and 29.3.3 Report back on any outcomes from these as they relate to the workers.

29.4 The Employer will provide the New Employer with all information about the workers who will be affected by the restructuring, including all details of their terms and conditions of employment. The Employer will make reasonable endeavours to ensure the affected workers are offered employment on the same or generally no less favourable terms and conditions of employment, encouraging the New Employer to do so.

29.5 It is ultimately the decision of the New Employer to continue the workers' employment and on what terms and conditions the worker can choose to transfer to the new employer or not.

- 29.6 If the New Employer does not offer a worker employment, then clause 29 on Redundancy applies. The Employer will meet with that worker to discuss:
- Are there options to remain employed by the Employer?
 - What their redundancy entitlements are under this Agreement?
 - What this could mean for the worker?
 - What their notice arrangements are?

- 29.7.2 They are offered and accept any employment with the New Employer (including on less favourable terms).

30. REDUNDANCY

The registered medical practitioner who undertakes a medical examination will be selected by agreement between the Employer and the worker. A copy of any relevant report provided by that medical practitioner will be available to both parties.

- 32.7 The Employer may make this request to:
1. determine whether granting the worker ongoing sick leave is appropriate;
 2. assess the workers fitness for work and/or return to work after a period of sick leave;
 3. obtain a second opinion if the worker has provided the Employer with a medical certificate or report; and/or
 4. determine whether the worker's employment should be terminated for incapacity.
- 32.8 Workers must advise the Employer of any medical condition (including stress-related symptoms) which may impact on the worker's ability to perform their duties safely or effectively.

- 32.10 Workers are required to comply with all the company's health and safety rules and policies/procedures. If the worker does not comply with the rules and procedures, warnings may be given or employment may be terminated. 35. MEMBERSHIP DUES

- 35.1 The Employer shall deduct membership dues from the wages of members of the Union who are bound by this Agreement each pay period. This also includes the time off work on paid leave. The Employer will forward Union fee deductions and terminations to the Union fortnightly coinciding with the workers' pay period.

35.2 The Employer shall not cease deducting membership dues from a Union member whilst employed unless authorized in writing by the Union office on the resignation of that member from the Union. When a worker gives notice to the Employer directly the Employer will forward this to the Union.

Work must resume, as soon as practical, after the meeting.

36.4 The Employer must allow a Union member employed by the Employer to attend a Union meeting under clause 35.1 for up to 2 hours on ordinary pay to the extent that the worker is rostered on for work for the Employer whole attending the meeting.

3. MINIMUM GUARANTEED HOURS:

- 3.1 Workers have minimum guaranteed hours per week of between 4 and 35 hours.
- 3.2 Minimum guaranteed hours which will be agreed to in writing and will be kept on each worker's personnel file.
- 3.3 Employees working dual roles will have overall minimum guaranteed hours set for them and this includes a guaranteed minimum for the higher role within this total.
- 3.4 Minimum guaranteed hours will be calculated on all paid hours including paid leave, hours paid for cancellation of a shift and in instances where the employee has requested unpaid leave.
- 3.5 Minimum guaranteed hours may be varied by agreement at any time between the Employer and workers for fixed periods of at least two weeks or more, including where there is to be a permanent change to hours of work. Workers may negotiate a short-term increase in their minimum guaranteed hours (such as peak periods). Requests for permanent changes to guaranteed hours will be discussed with the worker's manager and will be subject to the Employer's business needs and other relevant factors such as the availability of other staff. Temporary changes to a worker's guaranteed hours will not be unreasonably withheld provided that:
 - the requested change is of a temporary nature (i.e., for study) and with a defined end date;

- 4.6 If workers wish to make themselves unavailable for any one shift, they must follow in-house procedures. Permission will not be unreasonably withheld. The Employer may reasonably withhold consent to a shift replacement where a pattern of shift swaps on a particular day has emerged for one worker. For example, if a worker has arranged a shift swap for a weekend shift (being Friday night to Sunday) for four out of the last eight weeks, this is considered a pattern.
- 4.7 If a worker is rostered to work a "closing" shift followed by an "opening" shift, a period of 9 hours must elapse between such shifts except by mutual agreement.
- 4.8 A minimum of three hours will be paid for any one shift with the exception of training, fire evacuation training, or staff meetings which the minimum shift length paid for will be 1.5 hours. If a worker needs to leave a shift or training or a staff meeting for any reason before it is completed and before the minimum duration of three or 1.5 hours respectively, he or she will only be entitled to payment for the number of hours actually worked.

- 3.5 At commencement of employment new employees shall state their availability for hours that the employer will rely upon to roster minimum guaranteed hours and any additional voluntary hours to be worked. An employee may vary or withdraw availability no later than the Friday 5.00pm before the roster is posted the following Monday. Employees are encouraged to volunteer additional availability for work during the school holidays.
- 3.6 Availability should not be varied to allow for "one off" absences when the availability is otherwise intended to remain in place. In a one-off case the employee should either apply for leave or unpaid leave in which case the period of absence in question, as it affects hours that would otherwise have been rostered, will be counted as part of the guaranteed hours for the week in question.
- 3.7 Where an employee reduces their availability in accordance with the above, the employee acknowledges that the employer is no longer bound to roster minimum guaranteed hours, which will then be reduced in proportion to the reduction of availability, making allowance for impact of reduced availability on peak period availability. If original stated availability is restored, then guaranteed hours will be adjusted accordingly.
- 3.8 If employees wish to make themselves unavailable for any one shift, they must follow in-house procedure. Staff shall not swap shifts without the prior express permission of the Complex Manager or his/her designate. Requests to swap shifts should only be made in exceptional circumstances in which case they will be considered on a reasonable basis, having regard to the level of guaranteed hours still to be worked in the week by the employees affected by the proposed shift swap.
- 3.9 The employer will, at least one week prior to undertaking any recruitment drive at a location, invite existing employees at that location to indicate any increased availability for shifts.
- 3.10 From time-to-time employees are required to attend staff meetings. Where those meetings occur outside a designated shift, employees will be paid for the actual time in attendance at those meetings.

- 30 hours per week

- 5.2 Minimum hours shall be calculated on paid hours and shall include hours taken as annual leave, sick leave or default or failure to work rostered hours.
- 5.3 Minimum guaranteed hours may be varied by agreement between the employer and employee for fixed periods of at least two weeks or more, including permanent change.
- 5.4 Where an employee has consistently worked hours each week equivalent to a higher band the employee may, after six months averaging the higher band of hours, seek a review to vary guaranteed hours to that higher band as of right. An employee who wishes to be moved to a lower band of minimum guaranteed hours may elect to do so in writing on two weeks' notice.
